EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Brian Shaw on January 31, 2006.

The application has been amended as follows:

Cancel claims 1-21 and 42-51

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The most closely related prior art of record is considered to be Jacobs et al., US Patent 3,810,442. Jacobs et al discloses a similar structure in which animals are loaded onto a transportation cart and moved into a milking facility. However, Jacobs et al. cannot be construed to include an inherent method step of translating the transport cart to align with an unoccupied milking stall. As best understood, the Jacobs et al. reference teaches the animals being loaded into the milking stall and then being translated into a secondary room where milking equipment is located. As such, the animal cannot be construed as being transported to align with an unoccupied milking stall, as the animal is located within the milking stall prior to the translation of the transport cart. Further, as the Applicant has stated that it is inherent that the animal is removed rearwardly off of the transport cart and into the unoccupied milking stall, this method step is also not taught by the Jacobs et al. reference. With respect to the Double Patenting rejection over US 6,814,026: upon reconsideration, the cited reference does not disclose an inherent method of translating the first animal transport cart to align with an unoccupied milking stall as the transport cart, by design, is already aligned with a milking stall. As such, it is considered the method step of translating the first animal on the transport cart to align with the milking stall is not disclosed, as upon the animal loading on the transport cart in the cited reference, the animal is already aligned with the milking stall.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
